5. Lot

5.1 Lot: LOT-0001

Title: Lot 1: Evaluation services

Description: Lot 1: Evaluation services. This is an overarching term for various types of research at the project and portfolio levels. More specifically, it includes the following services: a. Process evaluations: research on the implementation, planning, and management of an intervention/project/programme/subsidy framework, without specifically examining effectiveness; b. Ex-ante studies: analysis of expected effects, costs, and outcomes of an intervention/project/programme/subsidy framework before implementation; c. Baseline studies: a baseline measurement of specific indicators at the beginning of an intervention/project/programme/subsidy framework, before implementation; d. Mid-term reviews: conducting research on the implementation process and/or the level of effectiveness and/or efficiency, halfway through the duration of an intervention/project/programme/subsidy framework; e. Effect evaluations: assessing the effectiveness, with a clear causal claim, and efficiency of a project, in the final year or after completion of a project; f. Longer evaluation trajectories: researchers are involved throughout the entire implementation of an intervention/project/programme/subsidy framework. This includes providing independent advice in setting up MEL systems, conducting baseline studies, mid-term reviews, and final (effect) evaluation; g. Portfolio evaluation: an evaluation of an instrument/subsidy framework/number of thematically or geographically grouped interventions, under which various projects are implemented, possibly in multiple countries; h. Policy Evaluation Review (PR); these policy evaluations are largely based on previously completed evaluations. For each budget article, insights obtained through evaluations should be compiled at least once every four to seven years in a PR (in accordance with Regeling periodiek evaluatieonderzoek 2022).

5.1.10 Award criteria

Criterion:

Type: Quality

Name: 1. Technical ability and experience in evaluation methods

Description: For the Ministry of Foreign Affairs it is important to contract parties that have the technical ability and experience in using evaluation methods considered necessary to perform the Contract. Therefore, the Tenderer must enclose one evaluation report, and if needed the inception report or separate annexes, which will be used to grade the technical ability and experience of the Tenderer. Note that reports will be treated confidentially. The submitted report may be among the reports enclosed to assess the eligibility requirements (see 3.3). The submitted evaluation report must meet the following requirements: • The evaluation report must be in Dutch or English language. • The evaluation report must have been completed within five years prior to the closing date for the submission of Tenders. If the Tenderer uses an assignment that is not yet fully complete, then only the completed results of the ongoing assignment can be submitted for evaluation purposes: projected results cannot be taken into consideration. Mid-term evaluations and draft evaluation reports are allowed, as long as data collection and data analysis have been finalised. • The lead author or team leader of the report is a salaried employee (or owner or self-employed) of the Tenderer on the closing date for submission of the Tender; and that author must have contributed to the evaluation.

Weight (points, exact): 65

Criterion:

Type: Quality

Name: 2. Evaluation experience

Description: The Tenderer must enclose four evaluation reports. Note that reports will be treated confidentially. The submitted reports may (partially) be among the reports enclosed to assess the eligibility requirements (see 3.3), and the award criteria relating to technical ability in evaluation methods (see 4.1.1). The submitted evaluation reports must meet the following requirements: • The evaluation reports must be in Dutch or English language. • The evaluation reports must have been completed within five years prior to the closing date for the submission of Tenders. If the Tenderer uses an assignment that is not yet fully complete, then only the completed results of the ongoing assignment can be submitted for evaluation purposes: projected results cannot be taken into consideration. Mid-term evaluations and draft evaluation reports are allowed, as long as data collection and data analysis have been finalised. • For each evaluation report, the lead author or team leader of the report is a salaried employee (or owner or self-employed) of the Tenderer on the closing date for submission of the Tender; and that author must have contributed to the evaluation.

Weight (points, exact): 15

Criterion:

Type: Quality

Name: 3. Composition of the Tenderer

Description: The explanation of the composition of the Tenderer is scored here. Tenderers submitting as a consortium must provide a written explanation of why they have chosen the specific composition, what the added value is of the composition for performing assignments arising under this Contract and the expertise of each consortium member. Tenderers submitting a Tender in the form of one party must provide a written explanation of why they have chosen to do so, what the Tenderer's specific expertise or niche is and if the Tenderer has the capacity for performing the assignments arising under this Contract. Max. no. of points available The assessment will be based on the motivation for the composition and the capacity for carrying out the assignments arising under this Contract. The Contracting Authority stimulates Tenderers to apply as part of a consortium, including at least one research institute from the Global South. Ideally, members from the applying consortia should have worked together in the past. Max word count: 600 10
